Dear Sean:

I just wanted to send you a quick Thank You for all the help you and your staff provided for our event last Monday. Insurance training and education events are notorious for being dry and boring, but having our event at your venue helped make our event lively and exciting.

Everything about your venue was great. From the ample free parking to the incredible sound system you have in place, everything worked perfectly for our group. We've heard glowing reviews from the attendees who all loved how we used a 30-foot movie screen to liven up presentations and Powerpoints in a way that they'd never seen before. I also loved how we were able to conduct an insurance training in a theatre setting that still allowed for note-taking. This was a nice change of pace from hosting yet another meeting in a hotel ballroom.

Your venue is one of the Twin Cities' hidden gems, and we hope to host another corporate event at your facility.

Sincerely,
